

EAGLES

EDITION

Dear EDUPRIZE Parents,

Thank you for attending our annual Curriculum Nights this week. Our goal was to give you a clearer understanding of what's happening both school-wide and in your child's classroom. Mrs. Vehon and I appreciated the opportunity to speak with you first to highlight key procedures and expectations shared across all grade levels, before you joined your child's teacher for more specific classroom information.

We hope you left feeling informed about your child's curriculum in all subject areas, classroom rules and routines, special programs, and how communication will work throughout the year. For families in grades 3–6, we also shared information about the AASA state test and distributed last year's results. These results help show how your child is progressing toward grade-level standards. Combined with i-Ready benchmark data, teachers will use this information to create personalized learning plans to ensure every student continues to grow and thrive.

If you have questions or would like to further discuss your child's academic progress, please don't hesitate to reach out to your child's teacher by phone or email. Our staff strives to respond within 24 hours. If you were unable to attend, your child's teacher will be happy to share the presentation with you.

Some of the key topics we covered included:

- Attendance
- Handbook policies (code of conduct, dress code, and cell phones)
- Before and after school procedures
- Infinite Campus (we recommend downloading the app for real-time access to grades, fees, contact info, and more)
- Driveline
- Gifted Program
- Sports Program
- PTO involvement
- AASA test results

Thank you again for your continued support. We look forward to partnering with you throughout this school year.

Have a wonderful weekend!

Kindly,

Robin
