

EAGLES

EDITION

Dear EDUPRIZE Parents,

We are flying through Quarter 2 with only three and a half weeks left! These final weeks will be full of meaningful instruction and end-of-semester assessments to measure mastery of the standards taught so far.

We are excited for Eagle Expo on Wednesday, December 4th, where our elective classes will be showcased, it's always a student favorite! We hope you'll join us in celebrating the creativity and learning happening in these courses.

As we approach the end of the semester, it is essential for students to keep up with assignments, turn in work on time, and take advantage of opportunities to retake assessments in order to show mastery at 70%. Your partnership in checking Infinite Campus regularly is critical. Planning ahead prevents stress and helps students stay focused on learning rather than rushing at the last minute.

We remind students daily that school is their "job," and we appreciate your support in encouraging them to be on time, engaged, and doing their best each day.

Next week is a short week, with school Monday and Tuesday only due to the Thanksgiving holiday. On Monday, Student Council will host a fun fundraiser - Thanks-A-Latte! - selling coffee, treats, and offering students a chance to relax and enjoy time with friends.

Our Giving Market fundraiser is also underway, helping raise funds for student activities. Your support makes an enormous difference!

I am deeply thankful for our students, our staff, our families, and the privilege of serving as Interim Principal.

Wishing you a wonderful weekend.

Kindly,
Robin
