

Hey everyone! I'm Alesha Asijie pronounced uh-see-jee entering my 13th year of teaching. Native to Arizona, but left to earn my Bachelors degree from the University of Georgia. As a scholarship track and field student-athlete, I competed in the shot put, weight and hammer throws. Go Dawgs, Sic' Em! I am very passionate about my alma mater and Atlanta, Georgia is my second home. I am a proud mom to my beautiful 3 year old daughter Xylah and love every minute of motherhood. #mytwin

I believe in the power of positivity. I encourage students to be confident in their ability and to remind themselves, the way they speak to themselves matters.

"They are mathematicians, they can do hard things!"

Thrilled to be returning for year 4 with the Eduprize Eagles family.
